XIth International Scientific-Technical Conference “Advance in Petroleum and Gas Industry and Petrochemistry” (APGIP-11) held on May 16–20, 2022 was dedicated to the 150th anniversary of founding of chemical and technological education in Lviv Polytechnic, which is now represented at the Institute of Chemistry and Chemical Technologies.

The scope of this Conference embraced the state and future trends in petroleum processing and petroleum products use, possibility of technological equipment improvement, gas plants, assortment and quality of existing products.

The Conference’s program included 6 main topics: Oil and Gas Processing; Petrochemistry and Coal Chemistry; Chemmotology of Lubricants and Technical Liquids; Organic Synthesis Products; Polymeric Materials and Composites; and Ecological Aspects of Petroleum Industry and Petrochemistry. About 120 attendees from 13 countries (Ukraine, USA, Poland, Spain, France, Slovakia, Brazil, Mexico, Israel, Georgia, Azerbaijan, Kazakhstan, and India) took part in the meeting. Among the attendees, there were: Professors – 38; DSc. – 40; post-graduate students – 16.

On May 16, after the opening ceremony headed by Prof. Volodymyr Skorokhoda, Director of the Institute of Chemistry and Chemical Technologies at Lviv Polytechnic National University, 11 lectures were presented: Sergii Boichenko (National Technical Univer-Institute”, Ukraine); Josef Haponiuk (Gdansk University of Technology, Poland); Lela Mirtskhulava (Ivane city of Ukraine “Igor Sikorsky Kyiv Polytechnic Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University, Georgia); Ananiy Kohut (Lviv Polytechnic National University, Ukraine); Iryna Shkiliuk (National Aviation University, Scientific-Technical Union of Chemmotologists, Ukraine); Nino Zavrashvili (Agricultural University of Georgia, Georgia); Volodymyr Gunka (Lviv Polytechnic National University, Ukraine); Anna Yakovlieva (National Aviation University, Scientific-Technical Union of Chemmotologists, Ukraine); Joanna Niesiołędzka (Gdansk University of Technology, Poland); Igor Trofimov (National Aviation University, Ukraine); Joanna Chudzik (Lodz University of Technology, Poland).

In order to further facilitate the establishment of contacts between specialists in the field of refining and petrochemistry as well as the exchange of modern scientific and technical information and improve the forms and methods of training highly qualified specialists, APGIP-11 participants approved to hold the next international scientific-technical conference “Advance in Petroleum and Gas Industry and Petrochemistry” (APGIP-12) in the spring of 2024 at Lviv Polytechnic National University.

Organizing Committee sincerely wishes peace, good health, and new scientific achievements!
